Family News:

Things are happening at the church of Christ at Wasilla!

Several of us traveled to Soldotna to attend the Alaska Lectureship and it was a great event and a blessing to all who was able to be there. The last day, there were over 600 Christians all singing praises to God. The lectures were very good, uplifting, and educational. If you didn't get to attend this year, make plans to attend next year in Juneau.

Joe and Beverly and their family traveled to Seward where Joe was invited to teach a bible class for them. Christians helping Christians, isn't it wonderful?

Tom Betti and his family made several trips outside enjoying the benefits of Toms labors at his job.

Alan and Sherry Churchill have moved outside. We will miss them.

Our gospel meeting with Windell Fikes was well attended. As usual Windell presented outstanding messages along the theme of "An Unchanging God in a Changing World".

The elders have decided to participate in a direct mail campaign called "House to House, Heart to Heart". Our first mailing will be this month. In conjunction with this we plan to initiate a door knocking effort targeting these same neighborhoods.

Evangelism:

Christianity is more than a religion, it is a life style. Christianity is who we are, it is what we do, it is how we live our life. It is not a weekend hobby, it is not a once a month or twice a year activity. And it is not an escape hatch that we use only when all else fails! Take a look at the early church. When people were baptized they rejoiced! They were not ashamed of what they had just done, they were not afraid of what their neighbors or family would say. In fact, when Cornelius, the Caesarean centurion invited Peter to his home, obeying the instructions from the Lord, he invited all this family and friends to hear the message! (Acts 10:24)

In addition, when they were converted, they began to preach and teach others. This is evident from the actions of those Christians who were dispersed from Jerusalem because of persecution, and from the example of Saul of Tarsus. So, our actions today should mirror those of our first century family. We should be happy to be Christians, we should rejoice because we have a home in Heaven, in the very house of the creator of the Universe! And we should want every one of our family and friends to be there with us.

That is what evangelism is about, the strong, overriding desire to be with God and to take as many of our family and friends with us as possible.

Bill Beebe

Acts 10:38-43 (KJV)

How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him. And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they slew and hanged on a tree: Him God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly; Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead. To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.

Titus 2:1-5 (KJV)

1 But speak thou the things which become sound doctrine: 2 That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience. 3 The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things; 4 That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children, 5 To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.

Acts 17:10-12 (KJV)

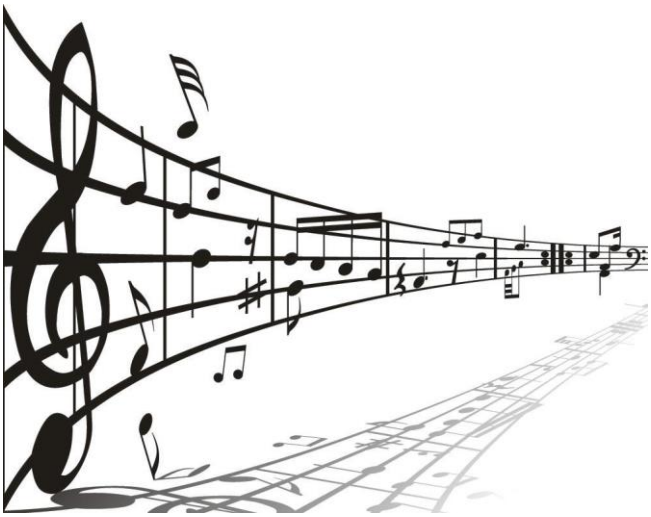
10 And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who coming thither went into the synagogue of the Jews. 11 These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so. 12 Therefore many of them believed; also of honourable women which were Greeks, and of men, not a few

Singing:

Singing is one of the things that the early church did. Paul commands us to sing praises to God.

Colossians 3:16-17 (KJV)

16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord. 17 And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.



Praying:

We are more blessed than any of God's people before us. Each one of us can talk directly to God the Father through the Lord Jesus Christ with the help of the Holy Ghost. What a tremendous thought! Both men and women can access God directly. We do not have to have the head male of our families talk to God for us as the people did in the patriarch age. We don't have to rely on a High Priest to talk to God once a year, as the children of Israel did. Each one of us can go directly to Him anytime we want to!

Unfortunately, a lot of us never use this. Or if we do we only do it when we eat a Thanksgiving or Christmas meal. But God wants us to talk with Him all the time.

1 Thessalonians 5:16-22 (KJV)

16 Rejoice evermore. 17 Pray without ceasing. 18 In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you. 19 Quench not the Spirit. 20 Despise not prophesyings. 21 Prove all things; hold fast that which is good. 22 Abstain from all appearance of evil

Darwin and Morality:

Until about fifty years ago in America, lasciviousness, adultery, and fornication were almost universally deemed reprehensible. Divorce was shameful, pornography was underground, and homosexuality was illegal. These elements are now on open display and enjoy wide approval — and participation.

Is our nation stronger or weaker because of these changes? Are families/homes more or less secure? Is the "misery index" for individuals greater or less? Do more or fewer people turn to chemical "solutions" for failure to find "purpose" in life? Are we experiencing more or fewer individual murders by abortion and mass murders? To ask is to answer.

Many "whys" might be suggested to explain the unarguable decline in national morals and ethics. Arguably, they all go back to a single taproot: Charles Darwin and his evolutionary hoax. Before his theories caught on in the 1870s, Western nations, though divided between Protestant and Catholic, were united in accepting the Biblical view of man as the apex of the creation of the Almighty, Self-existent God. Man had a purpose — to glorify God — and the Bible set forth man's behavior that would do so.

The leaven of Darwinism had its first effects in Western Europe. America stood as the last bastion of any degree of faith in God until the 20th century. At about the beginning of the past century, Darwinism gradually began influencing major theological schools, eventually producing an ever-larger army of faithless pulpiteers. It steadily morphed from mere theory to "fact" in the public schools, wreaking havoc on faith. By the last third of the past century, a palpable decline in morals was occurring. General respect for Biblical morals has now become almost passé in our national culture.

The increased acceptance of Darwinism and the parallel increase in amoral/immoral patterns of behavior are not merely coincidental. The widespread adoption of Darwinism undermined the Biblical purpose of mankind — the basis of human morality. Darwinists admit as much:

* Darwin was "keenly aware of the...religious implications of his new idea.... Religion, especially, appeared to have much to lose..." (Chet Raymo, Skeptics and True Believers).

* "You are here to propagate your selfish genes. There is no higher purpose to life" (Richard Dawkins, The Selfish Gene).

* "[That] the human species was not designed, has no purpose, and is the product of mere material mechanism...seems to be the message of evolution" (Douglas Futuyma, Science on Trial).

Contrary to this pessimistic, destructive, nihilistic, anti-theistic, depressing view of man comes the Bible's profound statement of man's Divine purpose: "Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man" (Ecc. 12:13).

A Book From God

Before we start to study the Bible, we need to recognize that it is God's Word. Such recognition will help us to study with a more serious attitude.

The Bible Claims to be Inspired

The Bible lays claim to inspiration. Paul told Timothy, "All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, that the man of God may be complete, thoroughly equipped for every good work" (2 Timothy 3:16-17). Paul used the Greek word theopneustos in the place where we find "inspiration." Theo means "God" and pneustos means "breathed," thus, God breathed, or God breathed out. The idea is that God spoke, since we exhale or breathe out through the vocal cords to speak.

Peter explained inspiration when he wrote, "For prophecy never came by the will of man, but holy men of God spoke as they were moved by the Holy Spirit" (2 Peter 1:21). The writer of Hebrews must have recognized this as he often penned God said a certain thing, when we know man did the actual writing (see Hebrews 1:5, 8; 5:5-6).

Many Old Testament writers claimed inspiration, as did some New Testament writers (see Isaiah 1:1-2, 10, 24; Jeremiah 1:1-2; 2:1; Ezekiel 1:1-3; 1 Thessalonians 2:13; 2 Peter 3:2). Jesus considered Old Testament Scriptures inspired and used them as authoritative (Matthew 4:4, 7, 10). His whole purpose in coming to earth was to do God's will by fulfilling Old Testament prophecy (Matthew 5:7-18; John 15:25). The New Testament writers considered Old Testament writers inspired (Acts 1:15-16; 4:25; 28:25-27; Galatians 3:16-19).

The writers of the New Testament also claimed inspiration for other New Testament writers. Jesus said the apostles would be guided by the Holy Spirit (John 14:25-26; 16:12-13; Hebrews 2:1-4). The clearest and perhaps most intriguing of all these statements is that made by Peter about the writings of Paul. "And consider that the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation – as also our beloved brother Paul, according to the wisdom given to him, has written to you, as also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things, in which are some things hard to understand, which untaught and unstable people twist to their own destruction, as they do also the rest of the Scriptures" (2 Peter 3:15-16).

Scientific Foreknowledge Proves the Bible Is from God

However, such internal claims would be meaningless if they were not supported by evidence. In fact, such claims force us to test their validity. We can know the Bible is from God because of the scientific facts that were written in it long before man recognized them or knew about them. In Genesis 1:11-12, 21, 24-25, we find the expression "after his kind" in reference to the grasses, trees, fish, birds, cattle and other beasts. These statements are made despite the fact that man, even hundreds of years later, believed in spontaneous generation. Only recently some doctors think they have found certain special elements in the blood of a boy baby eight days old which help to heal. Yet, Moses, thousands of years ago, wrote by inspiration that boy babies were to be circumcised the eighth day (Leviticus 12:3).

Long before modern medicine thought of putting people with highly contagious diseases in isolation, God's Word, in Leviticus 13:45, instructed the children of Israel to do just that with lepers. "Now the leper on whom the sore is, his clothes shall be torn and his head bare; and he shall cover his mustache, and cry, 'Unclean! Unclean!'" In George Washington's time, doctors believed "bleeding" a patient would rid the body of impurities. Now, doctors realize that the blood is the life of the body, just as Moses wrote in the long ago (Genesis 9:4; Leviticus 17:11, 14).

Thompson and Jackson note that the Mississippi River dumps over 6 million gallons of water per second into the Gulf of Mexico (A Study Course in Christian Evidences . Montgomery: Apologetics Press, 1992). One might ask, "Where does it all go and why is the land not flooded?" The answer was revealed by God through Solomon. "All the rivers run into the sea, Yet the sea is not full; To the place from which the rivers come, There they return again" (Ecclesiastes 1:7). In 11:3a, He fleshed out the explanation by saying, "If the clouds are full of rain, They empty themselves upon the earth." Amos concurs with Solomon when he described God by writing, "Who calls for the waters of the sea, And pours them out on the face of the earth, The Lord is His name" (Amos 9:6b).

Specific Prophecies Fulfilled Prove the Bible Is from God

Specific prophecies about an event hundreds of years in the future could only come true if they were inspired of God. The Bible has many examples of such specific prophecy that was fulfilled. Just in the case of Christ, we find prophecies made from 400 to 700 years before the event which are true in details that could not have been guessed. The place of His birth and fact that His mother would be a virgin are found in Micah 5:2 and Isaiah 7:14. Matthew tells us He was born of a virgin in Bethlehem (Matthew 1:20-2:1). His triumphant entry into Jerusalem is foretold in Zechariah 9:9 and fulfilled in Matthew 21:1-5.

Miracles Prove the Bible Is from God

The miracles worked in the Bible prove the spokesmen who worked them were from God. God gave Moses certain miraculous signs to use in proving to the Israelites that he was from God (Exodus 4:1-5). The miracles worked in bringing the ten plagues upon the land of Egypt were done to prove there was one God in the world and He was with Moses and the people (Exodus 7:5, 17; 8:10, 22; 9:14, 29; 10:2; 11:7; 13:3; 14:14). Christ was raised from the dead to prove He was God's spokesman (Romans 1:4). That the apostles were speaking by God's direction is clear because of the signs they were able to work (Mark 16:14-20; Hebrews 2:3-4).

Geography Proves the Bible Is from God

The Bible is also geographically correct. When it says someone or a group went up, the reader can be sure they went from a lower elevation to a higher elevation. For instance, in the Parable of the Good Samaritan , Jesus said, "A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, who stripped him of his clothing, wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead" (Luke 10:30). A simple glance at a topographical map is very revealing. Jerusalem is in a mountainous area, with the Mt. of Olives being 2,680 feet high. In contrast, Jericho is near the mouth to the Dead Sea. It is actually below sea level, at approximately 500 feet. So, one truly would go "down" from Jerusalem to Jericho!

Conclusion

Other areas of proof could be explored, such as: the historical accuracy of the Bible; the unity of 66 books written by about 40 writers in different languages, over 1,600 years and the greatness of the message. However, I believe we can already see that the Bible claims to be "God-breathed" and there are undeniable proofs that it is.

Meet Our Family:

Bill and Peggy Beebe

Bill and Peggy were born and raised in Arkansas. Bill was born in Jonesboro on August 13, 1949 and Peggy was born in Helena on December 8, 1950. Bill spent his early years living near Marked Tree but his family moved to Lambrook before he started school. Peggy lived in West Helena all her life.

Some interesting facts about our families are:

1. My dad, AC Beebe was a World War 2 Marine Corp veteran who was awarded the Purple Heart for injuries that he suffered on Palieau Island in the Pacific. He was a close friend of the 1940's-1950's TV and Movie Actor, Tex Riter. They often went duck hunting together. Tex bought my mother, Georgia Montgomery, her first electric vacuum cleaner because his wife would not allow them to bring the ducks into their home to clean. My mother sang on live radio and dated the 1940-1950 country music singer Sonny James. His hits include "Young Love" and "Running Bear Loves Little White Dove". Mother had cousins who were country music singers and who had a TV show based out of Memphis called "The Slim Rhodes Show". She met Elvis Presley when he was 15 or 16 and singing on her cousins show. Our family moved from Marked Tree, AR to Lambrook, AR in the 1950's after turning down an opportunity to move to Butte, Alaska in the pioneer farm program. At Lambrook we operated a subsistence farm, raising cotton for money and vegetables, pigs and beef for meat. In addition, we hunted and fished to supplement our food. Since we were very poor our primary recreation was listening to the "Grand Ole Opry" each Saturday night. Growing up my brother, Danny and I spent most of our time in the forest surrounding our farm. At Lambrook, I met a man who was born a slave which is something I remember well even now. I graduated from Elaine High School in 1967, Phillips County Community College in1969 with a degree in math and from the University of Arkansas at Monticello in 1972 with a BSF (Bachelor of Science in Forestry) with a major in Forest Science.
2. Peggy's dad was also a World War 2 veteran but did not see action due to issues with his feet. He became a millwright and a commercial fisherman working in West Helena, AR. Her mother, Edna Mae Stephens was a home maker. Peggy's dad was seriously injured in a work accident which cost him most of the right shoulder. However, he continued to fish and support his family refusing to take any government assistance. Her mother was seriously handicaped with RA. Peggy had a brother and a sister. She graduated from Central High School in Helena in 1970.
3. Bill and Peggy were married on May 30, 1970. Peggy worked to put Bill though college while raising one son, Seth. Their second son John was born after Bill finished college. They lived in Monticello, AR, Hardy, AR, North Little Rock, AR and Stamps, AR before moving to Alaska in1981. In Alaska they lived in Big Lake, Wasilla, McGrath, and finally Palmer. While working for the State of Alaska, Bill wat sent to the World Trade Center Disaster, several hurricanes, and many large wildland fires. Peggy worked as an accountant for several construction firms in both Big Lake and Wasilla. When Bill retired from the Alaska Division of Forestry in 2004 they moved back to Arkansas then back to Alaska in 2017. Bill, Peggy and both their sons are baptized believers, however their sons are currently not attending church. Bill served as an elder of the Valley church of Christ along with Ed Maxwell and Cotton Waldron in the mid to late 1980's.
