Today's Scripture

¹⁰For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile: ¹¹Let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it. ¹²For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.

1 Peter 3:10-12 (KJV)

Wisdom for Today

¹⁰The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: and the knowledge of the holy is understanding. ¹¹For by me thy days shall be multiplied, and the years of thy life shall be increased.

Proverbs 9:10-11 (KJV)

The Second Greatest Gift that God Gives us

Bill Beebe

When we were kids, we all couldn't wait for Christmas to come around. Then after that we waited for the end of the school year and the beginning of summer vacation. And it seemed to take forever for those things to happen. Then when school vacation finally came and we were out of school the long days of summer seemed to go by quickly. And all too soon we were back in school.

As adults, we often look forward to the weekends or the regular days off that you may have in your job. It took a while for these days to roll around, but they seemed to come quicker than you remember days as a kid. And days like Christmas just piled up on you. It seemed like it was just a week or so and another round of Christmas gifts had to be purchased. As we grow older, the days seem to roll by faster and faster and we make plans to purchase a home or maybe a business. Or we may plan to go hunting in the fall, or hiking in the Brooks Range. And through all of this, we too often forget what James tells us about our life James 4:14 \(KJV\) “ Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.”

Regardless of how long the days seem, our life is only a vapor. Something with no substance, you can see it, but not feel it. And usually, you can see through it. James also makes the point that life is temporary. So, while we can and should plan to settle down, buy a home, get married and have children; we should never forget that we are only a vapor. Here one minute, then gone. For this reason, we need get on our knees every morning and genuinely thank God for the gift of another day of life that He has granted us.

The gift of another day should never be minimized either. We should make the most out of it. We have another day to talk to someone about Jesus. We have another day with our friends and families. We have another day to appreciate the creation of God. Next to the salvation purchased for us by Jesus Christ in His death and resurrection, I suggest that this gift is one of the greatest we can receive from God. Because of that the one thing we need to remember is to never waste it. One way we should make use of the day is to praise God in prayer and the way we live our lives. Perhaps a friend or coworker might see something in your life that allows them to see the beauty of Heaven and the simple path it takes to walk it. A telephone call may cause someone else to see the blessings that they have and help them to recognize the power and glory of God that we Christians see daily.

Life is truly a gift; each day is another day to lead a person to Jesus. If God grants us tomorrow, let us not waste it!
